"You're Mighty Welcome"

Guarantee

WE Guarantee every bulb, root or plant sent out by us to be just as represented and to be in good growing condition. We cannot guarantee results, as conditions of planting, cultivation or weather are beyond our control; however, if a bulb or flower of any kind does not grow, we will cheerfully replace it without expense to our customers. We want every flower that leaves THE TRIANGLE FARMS to prove satisfactory and to show its "fetchin' up." While we exercise every care, errors may occur occasionally. Should this happen, notify us at once and correction will be promptly and cheerfully made. YOU ARE THE JUDGES.

Terms

Remittance must accompany all orders.

All goods ordered from this catalog are sent prepaid unless otherwise specified.

Make all checks, drafts or money orders payable to THE TRIANGLE FARMS, Circleville, Ohio.

Time of Shipment

Gladioli are shipped the latter part of March and first part of April until May 15th. Pansies and Perennials in the Spring, but no orders shipped after May 1st.

Early Orders

It is our advice to PLACE YOUR ORDERS EARLY, as our supply of a number of the items listed in the catalog is very limited, and it's sad to be disappointed.

No orders for gladioli or other Spring bulbs or plants will be filled after May 15th.

Hard Times Prices

We know, you know and everybody knows that TIMES ARE HARD and money is scarce and to meet this condition we have reduced the price on almost every bulb in this catalog.

In addition to the very substantial price reduction, we are going one step farther and with every order amounting to $5.00 we will give as a premium a full-sized bulb of MARY O' MINE, valued at $1.00. For every order amounting to $10.00 we will give a big bulb of OCELLUS valued at $2.50.

Business Harmony

MANY a time during the past summer we longed for the chance to tune up with "Singing in the rain," but we found that "It ain't goin' to rain no more" was more appropriate, but since digging such a fine crop of bulbs, we are now singing, "Happy days are here again."

However, the dry season has helped to make hard times and we are cutting down on expenses by limiting the size of the catalog. We hope, however, to issue a tulip and iris catalog in the late summer.

Those folks who have not received our larger catalog may have one of our 1930 issue if they will write for one.

Without further temporizing, let's jump right into the culture of the gladiolus.

General Gladiolus Culture

Although no flower gives more satisfaction than the Gladiolus, with ordinary care and culture in average soils, yet it readily responds to high culture, and the superior blooms produced by special attention amply repay for the additional care. Only those who have seen the Gladiolus at its best can realize the vast difference between the blossoms produced by first-class methods and those less carefully grown. We strongly advise our friends to employ only the best cultural methods possible.

It is advantageous to spade in a good covering of manure late in the fall preceding the plantings. The richer the soil and better the care and culture, the better the results will be. In the spring, when the soil is in proper condition, spade deeply and pulverize thoroughly. Fresh manure should not be used. Select a sunny location. "Glads" are like folks—they need a lot of sunshine or they appear pale and anemic and sickly.

For a long blooming season, plant at intervals of about two weeks from first garden-making time until the middle or latter part of June. Bulbs can be planted four inches deep and over in mellow soils, and four to eight inches apart in the row. The deeper planting will help to keep the plants from falling over at blooming time.

Frequent thorough waterings of the soil in the beds at evening is a wonderful stimulant, and gives the blooms much greater sun resistance and lasting qualities. Keep the soil well worked, especially early the next forenoon after being watered the previous evening. Always keep a soil crust from forming in the rows among the plants. After blooming spikes begin to show, cultivate only about two inches deep. Do not work the soil when wet. Do not plant too near to walls or shrubbery.

Varieties vary in different soils and seasons. Some do their best only in alternate years. Some varieties produce monster bulbs while others produce small ones. The bulbs of most varieties have a fine satiny covering, but some have a rough husk.

Slender stakes of wood or bamboo painted a light green make good supports for the spikes at blooming time. Where horizontal lines are used they should be fastened to end posts firmly set and the wires tightly stretched.

If wanted for cut-flower purposes, the flower spikes should be cut when the first bloom opens. Four leaves of the plant should remain to properly mature the bulb. After cutting the flower spike, place it in water. One bud after another will open. Each morning cut off the stem on a long slant, remove the withered flowers and give fresh water. Drooping flowers will revive, if placed in a cool cellar over night.

Dig bulbs during October; cut off the top close to the bulb and cure by drying a few days in or out-of-doors, then store away in boxes not over four inches deep in a cool part of a frost-proof cellar. Bulbs should not be kept in air-tight packages.

We guarantee every bulb to grow and bloom true to name the first season. The price is for a blooming sized bulb.

The Triangle Farms Introductions

Glint o' Gold

(Our origination for 1931)

It would take more nerve than we have to say that GLINT O' GOLD is the finest yellow glad in the world, but we will say that there is no finer. Tall, straight stems that do not topple over; broad deep green healthy foliage; from five to seven widely spread florets open at one time and perfectly placed; up to twenty-one buds and flowers to the spike and best of all, heat resisting. The past summer proved that it behaves as well during a dry season as when the season is normal. The color is rich, pure yellow, with just a suggestion of rose in the throat. If you want a big blossomed, tall yellow Glad, GLINT O' GOLD should be your choice. Each, $2.00.

(1930)

Named in honor of our grandson, Barton Bales Deming, and as fine a glad as he is a boy, and that's saying "a lot." Great big wide open blossoms—five or six of them open at one time—perfectly placed on a stem, not too slender, nor too thick. The color is just too pretty for words—pink, with a sort of salmon undertone and a large creamy throat. No use talking, BARTON is one pretty Glad and as strong and sturdy as can be. You're "just naturally" bound to like him. Each, $1.50.

Nasturtium

(1930)

Looks just like it sounds. Good sized blooms, one poised above the other but not crowded, on tall strong, straight stems. Nasturtium colored—orange-red with a yellow throat which is finely speckled with red. If you were in a garden with five hundred varieties of blooming glads and were told to pick out the one named NASTURTIUM, you would instantly pick out this one. Exceedingly brilliant and in a color class all its own. Mighty fine. Each, $1.00.

Wake Robin

(1930)

How will we describe its color? Rosy cerise; rosy violet; purple with a rose undertone. The color is so different; it's uncanny. The large white throat gives the bloom a sort of alert, snappy, wide-awake appearance. There are several of the big blossoms open at one time on the best of stems. A good sturdy, upstanding, fine and unusual glad. "Nuf ced." Each, $1.00.

Blenn

(1928)

BLENN has about every good quality a glad should have. Immense blossoms of wonderful substance, frequently seven and one-half inches across and so intensely ruffed that the edges seem to be pleated by the hand of an expert needle-woman. The placement of the florets is perfect on the strong, tall, willowy stem. But all this fades into insignificance when we consider the color, which is a rich glowing salmon-pink with an immense cream colored throat, marked with fine inconspicuous parallel lines of purplish. The impression given is that of an enormous cream-colored glad with a wide edge or frill of salmon-pink. BLENN stands in a class by himself and will head the parade of new and worth-while glads for many a year. We believe BLENN to be the outstanding figure in the gladiolus world. Supply very limited. Each, $5.00.

Special Introductory Offer

One bulb each of BARTON, BLENN, GLINT O' GOLD, NASTURTIUM and WAKE ROBIN (catalog value, $10.50), for $9.00. This is surely a mighty fine quintette. Every one of them is a gem.

GLADIOLI

WITH the exception of questions concerning culture, there is no question more frequently asked than the correct pronunciation of the word, gladiolus. As the official pronunciation is changed with every change of the moon, we were prompted to pen the following lines of doggerel:

Some folks call me glad-dee'-o-lus, (from gladius, meaning sword)
 And some call me glad-die'-o-lus, a dictionary word.
 Some call me glad-i-o'-lus, which really is not bad,
 But when I bloom my very best, both you and I'll be GLAD.

General List of Varieties

Acme. A peculiarly colored glad of old rose. The lower petals are cream with a sprinkling of dark rose. Unusual and fine. Each, 25c; $2.50 per doz.

Admiration. Fine tall spikes of ruffled blossoms of soft lavender-pink. A beauty. Each, 15c; $1.40 per doz.

Aida. Rich deep violet-blue with bright violet-red throat markings. Several large blooms open at one time on strong, sturdy stems. A new and rare variety from Germany. Only one to a customer. Each, $1.75

Albania. Pure glistening white; the flowers wide open, very large, with broad, well-rounded petals having finely ruffled edges. Certainly a beautiful white variety and as pure as freshly fallen snow. 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Albion. Tall stems bearing large blossoms of salmon-rose with a peculiar pinkish tinge. Mighty pretty. Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Alhambra. Large flowers of brilliant scarlet. Looms up in the garden like a "house afire." Stock very limited. Each, 25c; $2.45 per doz.

Alice Tiplady. Probably the most popular gladiolus that has a strain of the Primulinus species in its veins. Beautiful large flowers of brilliant orange-saffron. A bright spot in the garden. Alice never disappoints. 3 for 20c; 55c per doz.

Alicia. Tall, brilliant orange-salmon with lighter throat. Many large flowers open at a time. Not a common variety and our supply of this fine Glad is limited. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 85c per doz.

Allen V. Bunce. Surely one fine rich orange glad. The slight throat markings add to its beauty. The large, wide open blossoms are well placed on tall, slender spikes. It surely is a beauty. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Alma Gluck. Beautiful bright peach-red with a conspicuous creamy yellow throat. Slender, graceful stems; large, wide-open flowers. Just as sweet as she can be. Each, 5c; 50c per doz.

Al Shira. This dark, threatening Sheik is well named. The flowers are large and are a very dark wine-red with an almost black throat. The petals are rounded, which gives it a distinctive appearance. Tall and very fine. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

"Looks are deceiving sometimes and the smallest apple may conceal the largest worm."

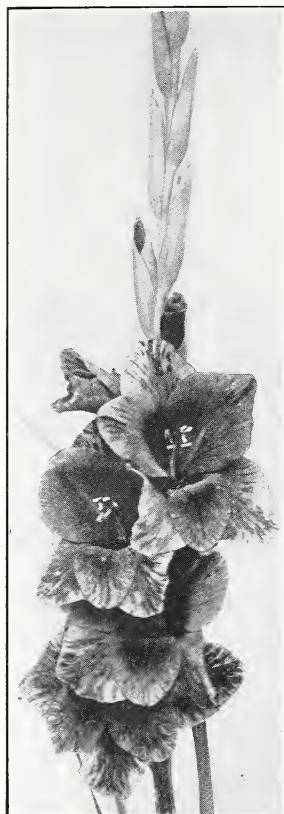

American Beauty.

Altair. Extra tall Primulinus hybrid of finest salmon-saffron. One of the very first to bloom. The flowers are smiling at you long before a number of the other varieties have made up their minds to bloom. Very frequently will present you with two or more spikes in one season. A mighty welcome "early bird." Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Alton. A magnificently ruffled variety of bright orange color. Strong grower and a beauty. Each, 25c; 3 for 65c; $2.40 per doz.

Ambassador. Tall, distinguished gentleman of dark pink with a crimson, white spotted throat. Very dignified. A fine variety. Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Anna Eberius.

Arden. Tall spikes of large flowers well placed on the spike; many open at a time. The color is beautiful and unusual, being watermelon-red. Looks just good enough to eat. A fine new variety. Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Argo. Large, pink blossoms well placed on slender stems. A fine Primulinus hybrid. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Arizona. One of those strong, husky varieties that never disappoints. Dark pink with dark rose markings on lower petals. A tall grower with four to six blossoms open at a time. A favorite with florists because of its good keeping qualities. 4 for 25c; 75c per doz.

Alymer. Pale yellow with a deeper yellow throat. Prominent rosy violet feathers on each of the lower petals. Several large, well placed blossoms open at one time on the tall spike. A fine Australian variety. Each, $1.00.

America. Soft lavender-pink with lighter throat. One of the old standbys. Always good and always popular. Each, 5c; 6 for 25c; 40c per doz.

American Beauty. Brilliant American Beauty rose color; creamy yellow throat. A large number of flowers open at one time; each spike is a bouquet in itself. Each, 10c; $1.00 per doz.

Anamosa. Tall, orange-salmon Primulinus hybrid with a golden throat. Fine. Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Angel's Dream. Immense spikes with many open florets of a soft caressing pink. Surely a mighty pretty glad. One of the outstanding new varieties and bound to be popular with all who see it. Each, $2.75.

Angola. One of Kunderd's fine Primulinus hybrids. Soft salmon-pink; a beauty. Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Anna Eberius. Dark velvety purple; throat a deeper shade. Large flowers set on long spikes. Anna's a beauty. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Annie Laurie. Ruffled blossoms of delicate pink which becomes deeper colored at the edges of the petals. Straight, slender stems. Surely a charming variety. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Anthony B. Kunderd. Fine, heavily ruffled blossoms of cream with a blush of pink which is intensified as it approaches the edges of the petals. A fine Glad. Each, 15c; $1.40 per doz.

Apricot Glow. Surely well named, for it is a clear glowing apricot-colored Glad. The color shades to yellow in the throat. Large, well placed blooms; straight, graceful stems—everything. Extra fine. Each, 40c; 3 for $1.00.

Arabia. Rich dark red blooms, well placed on straight stems. A fine dark variety and well named. Each, 15c; $1.50 per doz.

Arbutus. A beautiful name for a beautiful Glad. The color of the wide-open blossoms is pink of the identical shade of the trailing arbutus. A variety that you will be proud to show your neighbor. Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Arlon. Large, wide-petaled flowers of bright orange-salmon with a red throat. A bright and conspicuous spot in the garden. Good strong spikes. A beauty. Each, 5c; 40c per doz.

Atalanta. A bright, cheerful, rose-colored Glad with a creamy throat which is brightened by a feather of carmine. Good spikes; several blossoms open at one time. A good one from Australia. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Atherton. A beautiful and striking variety. Color a deep salmon-rose, the petals being distinctly bordered with blue. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 70c per doz.

Ave Maria. Here is surely a beauty from Germany. Rich violet, shading to lighter violet in the throat which is marked with blotches of a deeper color. Massive spikes with from six to eight immense florets open at one time. Each spike is a bouquet in itself. Our stock is very limited. Only one to a customer. Each, $1.00.

Averill. The large pinkish salmon blossoms are flecked with a darker shade. Large sulphur yellow throat markings add to the charm of this unusually handsome Australian Glad. The spikes are straight and tall.

Each, $1.00.

Balboa. As many as seven large, excellently placed blooms of clear glowing apricot-pink with warm yellow throat, open at one time. A fine one.

Each, 40c; 3 for $1.00.

Baltimore. Here is one of the really meritorious older varieties that has been overlooked in the rush for novelties. Flowers are large and wide open; salmon with a chestnut red throat blotch. Very early and quite showy. A good one. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Baron Jos. Hulot. Deep indigo blue with fine hair lines of gold. More nearly purple than any other medium priced variety. Distinct.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Beatrice. The tall stalks gracefully carry the large blossoms of cream color with a veining of pink. The pink is so laid over the cream as to give the flower a crinkled effect. A mighty pretty Glad.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Bengal Tiger. Large blossoms of a peculiar shade of smoky red, striped and lined with smoky blue-gray. Certainly well named. Barbarically gorgeous. Heartily recommended. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Bertie Snow. A beautiful soft lavender color with a lighter throat. Large blossoms, well placed on fine spikes. A wonderful Scotch Glad. Each, $1.00.

Best Violet. Fine, tall spike of many open blossoms of reddish violet with fine hair lines of gold. Extra good as a cut flower. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Betty Bales. Originated by Mr. M. F. Wright and named for our daughter. About as near true blue as has been attained. Dainty and beautiful.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Betty Darnell. Light canary yellow shading to golden yellow in the throat. Several large flowers open at a time. Well placed on the spike. One of the very best yellows. A mighty fine "Glad."

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Betty Murray. Beautiful shade of rose-pink, deepening a little in the throat. Very large and showy.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; $1.00 per doz.

Black Pansy. Richest dark red with a beautiful pansy-like throat. One of the finest in this color.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Blood Spot. Large spike with two rows of open blossoms of dark mahogany splashed with blood-red on the lower petals. A vase of this variety in a room with mulberry drapes is a thing of beauty. Unique in its somber coloring.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Blue Jay. Large flowers of bright blue with pure white spots in the throat. One of the bluest of Glads.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Bon Echo. Large, waxy flowers of cream and pink; perfectly blended on tall, straight stems. Robust grower. Mighty fine. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Betty Bales.

Bonny. Large ruffled blossoms of lavender with an undertone of rose-pink. A beautiful variety of uncommon coloring.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Bordeaux. Beautiful large flowers of deep wine color. Tall spikes and probably the earliest of the dark colored varieties.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Break o' Day. One of the top-notchers. Immense pink blossoms with soft creamy yellow blotches on the lower petals. Must be seen to be really appreciated. Extra large and extra fine.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Bright Wings. Light pink, shading to much deeper pink edges. A pale yellow blotch on the central lower petal. Immense 6-inch ruffled, wide open blooms and as many as a half dozen of them open at one time and they are perfectly placed on the extremely tall stems. This is certainly Dr. Neely's masterpiece. Simply wonderful. Each, $10.00.

Captain Boynton.

Captain Boynton. Beautiful light lavender with a deeper lavender blotch in the throat. Tall spikes with several large blossoms open at one time. One of the finest lavender Glads in existence.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Captain Courageous. Great big, rich, velvety blood-red blossoms flaked with a deeper red. Tall spike with several blooms open at one time. Well named, for he is the kind of Glad that will look anyone in the face and tell them "what's what."

Each, $2.00.

Captain Fryatt. Immense brilliant red blossoms with intense scarlet blotch on the lower petal. This blotch is tipped with a little yellow goatee. Tall spike with several flaming blooms open at one time. A row of this Glad in the garden looks like the beginning of a prairie fire.

Each, 35c; $3.25 per doz.

Cardinal Prince. Large flowers of rich cardinal-red of excellent form and perfect placement borne on tall stems. Six to eight open at one time. Certainly the finest Glad in this color. Unreservedly recommended.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Bunker Hill. Immense crimson flowers with the lower petals covered with bright yellow. Tall imposing spikes. Wonderfully showy. A regular "he" Glad.

Each, 20c; $1.90 per doz.

Butterfly (Burbank's). Brilliant salmon with prominent throat blotches of deep maroon and yellow. It is well named. This is not as well known as the following variety and is not seen in many gardens. Beautiful.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Butterfly (Kunderd's). The large, pale salmon-yellow ruffled flowers are airily poised on long, slender spikes. Due to its Primulinus ancestry, it sometimes sends up several spikes of bloom from one bulb.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Byron L. Smith. So many folks in our gardens have referred to the different varieties as looking like orchids (and this included every color from intense red to pure white) that we usually refrain from referring to any variety as "rivaling the orchid." Here is one, however, that is as finely colored as any Cattleya. The color is a delicate lavender-pink on a white ground; lighter in the throat. Almost fairy-like in its daintiness.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Cameo. The upper petals are cream with a tinge of pink. The lower petals are light yellow shading to creamy white at the tips. Tall, straight, early and slightly ruffled. Beautiful and a favorite with those who admire delicate coloring.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Campanile. Tall stems bearing several open flowers of salmon with a buff-yellow throat. A charming color combination and dainty as a fairy. Extra good as a cut flower.

Each, 15c; $1.40 per doz.

Capella. Tall, very bright and clear reddish orange. A real pretty Primulinus hybrid. Large and free-blooming.

Each, 5c; 50c per doz.

Carmen Sylva. Beautiful large snow white blossoms on tall, slender, straight stems. Excellent cut flower. A perfect beauty.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 75c per doz.

Caruso. Nothing anaemic or half starved about this individual. He's a great big, full blooded, hard boiled, double fisted fellow. Bright flame red with a darker, white bordered blotch in the throat. Florets well placed on fine stems. Stock very limited.

Each, $1.00.

Catherina. Light grayish blue; lower petals a little deeper in color and with a brownish red spot. Tall spike and mighty pretty.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Cattleya. Soft lilac-rose with white throat blotches. Delicately beautiful.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Chameleon. One of those smoky, changeable silk, orientally colored varieties. Presents a different color combination every time you look at it. A fresh delight every day. Decidedly different.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Charlemagne. Gorgeous, large, wide open, sunrise red blossoms, flaked darker; creamy throat blotch. Fine.

Each, 25c; 3 for 65c; $2.25 per doz.

Chas. Dickens. Bright purple, well-opened and perfectly placed blossoms on tall straight spikes. A fine German variety.

Each, 50c.

Charm. Large ruffled blossoms of deep rose-pink with a dark blotch on the lower petals. A beauty.

Each, 20c; $1.90 per doz.

Chateau Thierry. Bright cerise; a red blotch bordered with yellow on lower petals. Tall spike of large, widely expanded and well formed flowers. A bright spot in the garden.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Chicago White. The blossoms are white with faint lines of rose on the lower petals. Very early and a popular florist's flower.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Clio. Large, wide open blossoms of light rose. Throat white with dark speckles. Fine.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Conspicuous. Light blue; throat blotch yellow, bordered with dark blue. Unusually colored. Reminds one of a pansy.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Constance. Immense salmon-pink flowers with fleckings and mottlings of rose. Conspicuous scarlet blotches on the lower petals. An outstanding Australian Glad.

Each, 50c.

Copper Bronze. Coppery orange, extensively flaked and shaded with "smoky." Red tongues of flame on the lower pet-

Crescent Queen. Large ruffled blossoms of deep wine-red. Rich and glowing. Fine.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.45 per doz.

Damask. Shrimp pink with a rosy pink feather in the throat. Large blooms well placed on strong stems. Several open at one time. A mighty pretty Australian variety.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Deutschland. Soft pink with deeper pink markings in the throat. Tall spike, with many blossoms open at one time. "Made in Germany," but good.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Diana. Gorgeous bright red blossoms on tall spikes. Wide open flowers well placed on the stem. A fine variety.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Dorothy McKibbin. Fine ruffled pink. Pure apple blossom tint; many open at a time; very early and an excellent cut flower. Dorothy is a mighty pretty girl. You'll love her.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Dorothy Wheeler. Here is another beautiful Dorothy. The flowers are a delicate rose-pink, well placed on a slender, graceful stem. You'll make no mistake if you have both Dorothy's in your garden. Both are as good as they are beautiful.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Dream. The massive ruffled blossoms are deep salmon-red with large showy throat blotches of dark red. A strong, sturdy, upstanding fellow that looks you right in the eye.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

als. Large pointed petaled blooms on slender stems. Mighty well named for it surely has a metallic appearance. Oddly beautiful.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Copperhead. An odd, yet attractive variety. Pale coppery orange; the inner petals yellow with a copper tongue.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Coral Belle. Just the color of a coral necklace, shading to a white throat. Good sized blooms, well placed on tall slender stems. A beauty.

Each, 20c; $1.90 per doz.

Corunna. A strikingly unusual flower. The soft garnet-red blossoms are large with widely spreading, pointed petals. Large, almost coal black blotches bordered with white, combine to make this an extraordinary flower. Sort of reminds one of a Navajo blanket.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Crimson Glow. Well named. Rich, glowing crimson with a velvety center. Large flowers; early and vigorous. Popular and justly so.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Crimson Ruffles. Brilliant red, intensely ruffled blossoms, well placed on the best of stems. Gorgeous.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Dr. R. T. Jackson.

Dr. F. E. Bennett. Flowers of the largest size and of the most fiery red imaginable. Many open at one time and perfectly placed on the stem. One of the best red glads.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Dr. R. T. Jackson. Deep rich velvety red. A real upstanding Glad and one that fills a long-felt want in a good sturdy variety in the dark reds.

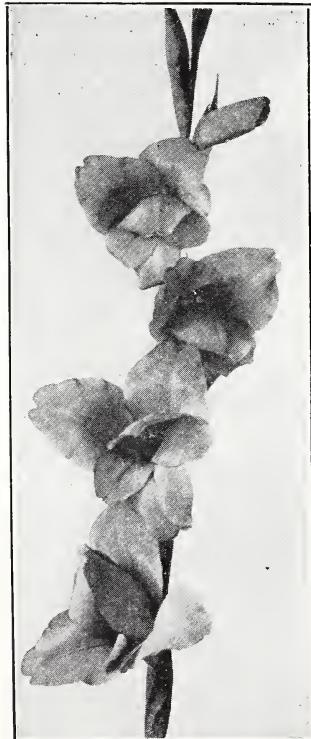

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Dr. Moody. Here is surely one fine Glad. Six to eight large, well placed blooms open at one time and as many as sixteen florets in bloom or showing color. There are usually two side spikes that bloom before the main spike is through. The color is a soft, delicate lavender. Perfectly beautiful. Each, $1.50.

Early Morn. Deep lavender-gray, lighted up by the light yellow throat. Just the color of the sky when the sun is awakening. A pretty and unusual Glad and so new that very few gardens have it. Supply very limited. Each, $1.50.

Early One. As the name implies, this is one of the early bloomers. Fine well-opened blooms of rose with an amber throat. A good one.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Ethelyn.

Early Pink. Large pure pink blossoms with peculiarly speckled throat. Early and very pretty.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Early Snowflake. Here is a beauty. The color is rich, creamy white with a tinge of yellow in the throat. Looks more like a pure Easter Lily than a Gladiolus and the resemblance increases as the spike becomes more nearly "bloomed out."

Each, 5c; 50c per doz.

Early Sunrise. Large flowers of pinkish salmon with yellow throats. Big blossoms, well placed on sturdy spikes. Early and fine. Recommended.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

E. B. Williamson. A large Prim. Hybrid of mallow purple. A mighty pretty Glad and a prize winner.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

E. J. Shaylor. Oh Boy! You should see "Ole Man Shaylor" when he is in his prime. Large ruffled blossoms of pure, deep rose-pink on tall, straight spikes. Stands right up and says "Howdy do."

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Elberton. Fine light creamy yellow, butterfly-shaped flowers; deeper in the throat; tall, graceful stems. One of the best in its color. Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Elf. Lemon-yellow when in bud; the fully opened flowers are snow-white with lemon-yellow on the lower petal. Large flowers on a straight spike. Particularly good as a cut flower.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Elizabeth Swartley. A sport of 1910 Rose and as hardy as its "Daddy." The color is a clear pink with a creamy white throat. Surely a fine Glad and one the florists will demand when the cost of bulbs is less. A good one. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Elizabeth Tabor. Large flowers of delicate rose-pink; lower petals have a brilliant crimson blotch which is tipped with soft yellow. Tall spike. Exceedingly early, blooming in from 50 to 60 days. A good one.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Elkhart. Violet-purple with a dark purple throat blotch. Large flowers. Very rich. "Looks like a million dollars." Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Elora. Large blossoms of creamy white with a deeper colored throat. Lower petals with a feathering of pink. Very early. One of Burbank's good ones.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Elsia. A wonderfully pretty golden yellow Glad originated by F. A. Wetzel of Syracuse, N. Y. Large blossoms; tall, graceful stems; rich color; hardy constitution. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Emile Aubrun. A great big, two-fisted Glad from France. The petals of the immense flowers are almost as thick as a calla lily and stand out as if made of cardboard. The color has been described as begonia-rose, but there is an overlay of a smoky tint hard to describe. The whole flower has a sort of metallic bronzy appearance which serves as an admirable background for the brilliant cherry blotch in the throat. An unusual and exceedingly striking Glad.

Each, 35c; $3.40 per doz.

Enigma. Tall plant with large flowers which are strikingly striped with red, white and blue. (Draw a little upon the imagination for the blue). It is well named. A vase of these flowers is oddly beautiful. There is no other Glad anything like it.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Ensign. Large blossoms of rosy red, flecked and mottled with scarlet. Large white throat blotches. Tall spike. A beautiful and striking variety from Australia and one that appeals to almost everyone. Each, $1.00.

Ethel. Bright variegated pink with yellowish throat. Straight spike with several blossoms open at one time. Delicately beautiful. Each, 5c; 50c per doz.

Ethelyn. Brilliant orange, more intensely colored in the throat and with a faint tipping of bronze. Tall slender spike with several blossoms open at one time. A distinct and brilliant addition to any garden. A beauty. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Evelyn Kirtland. Ah! Here's a real Glad if there ever was one! Without a doubt one of the finest, regardless of price. The blossoms are an exquisite shade of melting pink, deepening toward the edge of the petals. Brilliant scarlet blotches on the lower petals; tall, handsome spike. No garden is complete without her. Having a "little fairy in the home" cannot compare with having a little Evelyn in the garden.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Eugene Lefebre. Great big bright pink blossoms with the throat spotted and dotted purple-amaranth and cream. An impetuous Frenchman and all that the name implies. You'll like Eugene if you're a man, but you'll love him if you're a lady.

Each, 50c; $5.00 per doz.

Eula Terry. "Elegance, purity of color and daintiness are the characteristics of this flower," says Mrs. Bonistock, the originator of this fine Glad. Beautiful, pure rose with the interior of the petals several shades lighter. Tall, straight grower.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Fair Columbian. Tall, vigorous plant with large, fine, showy lilac blossoms with deeper colored throat. Mighty fine. Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Fairy Lantern. Deep rosy cerise veined and variegated with cream; large throat blotches of bright yellow. Has the appearance of a deep yellow Glad with a rosy border. It wouldn't take a whole lot of imagination to picture the blooms as rosy lanterns lighted with a yellow light inside. Very early. An extra fine Glad. Each, $1.00.

Faith. This is the most beautiful of all the blue Glads. Just the color of the sky as it is seen through the fleecy white clouds of summer. There are two inconspicuous feathers of pale lilac on the lower petals. Tall spike with several large blooms open at one time. Almost too pretty to be real. Each, $1.50.

Fastidious. Immense wide-open blossoms of delicate shell pink shading to ivory white in the throat. Without doubt, one of the very, very best Glads.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Fern Kyle. Large, ruffled blossoms of white, faintly tinted with cream, rather Evelyn Kirtland.

compactly placed on good, strong stems. Several open at one time. A mighty pretty Glad and a popular one, too.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Firefly. A Primulinus hybrid of bright deep scarlet. Pure, rich self color. A glowing spot in the garden.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Fire Ribbon. Tall spikes with many blossoms open at one time. We have had spikes in our garden that bore twenty-two opened flowers and buds showing color. The spike is a long, fiery band of glowing color. Early; exceedingly rich; strikingly showy. Each spike is a bouquet.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Forest Sprite. Great big blooms of carmine shaded creamy at the edges. Several well placed florets open at one time. A charming and distinct new variety and one that is bound to become popular.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

"Each one is born to just so much punishment. If parents don't give it, the law will."

Freda. Very large, wide open flowers of geranium-pink, shading to La France-pink in the throat. Cream colored throat. Vigorous grower.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Frank J. McCoy. As many as twelve, large, well placed blossoms open at one time. Brilliant pink with a darker feather in the throat. No written description can convey the majestic beauty of this grand Glad. It must be seen. Simply wonderful.

Each, $2.50.

Frau Dr. Haym. A beautiful German variety that is not as well known as it should be. Tall straight spikes with several blooms open at one time. The color is hard to describe but is near American Beauty red, though it has an undertone of violet. The creamy yellow throat markings add the finishing touch to the artistic whole. You'll like the Frau.

Each, 75c.

Freckles. A peculiarly red and yellow striped Primulinus hybrid. Glad Bill says of it: "Reminds one of a red-headed, freckle-faced boy. Just as full of pep as that boy." Every circus needs a clown; so should every garden, and Freckles fills the bill.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Gaiety. Bright salmon-pink, flaked deep salmon-red. Very conspicuous, pure white blotches on the lower petals. Large flowers, tall spikes, exceptionally attractive and a great favorite.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Gallant Leader. A great big, tall rascal of pure pink, with a creamy white throat. Several well-placed blooms open at one time on the spikes that tower high above most of the Glads in the garden. A mighty pretty Glad.

Each, $2.00.

Garden Sprite. Different from any Glad we have ever seen. Creamy white with the tip of each petal shrimp-pink. Several good-sized, well-placed blooms open at one time. Bright and cheerful and "altogether lovely." A perfect darling. Introduced last year by the Austins.

Each, $1.75.

Genesee. One of John C. Davis' good ones. Tall, erect spikes bearing many open flowers of pale yellow with a peculiarly beautiful yellowish buff throat. Mighty pretty.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Gen. Pershing. Well named. Tall, erect spike with three or four large flowers open at one time. The upper parts are pale salmon-pink and the lower petals are yellow marked with carmine. A mighty fine fellow to have in your garden.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Gertrude Errey. Here is surely an Australian beauty. The blossoms are large and beautifully colored; soft shell pink, mottled and flecked with a deeper color. The rose-lined, cream-colored throat blends to perfection with the main color and produces a combination that is too charming to adequately describe. It must be seen.

Each, 50c; $5.00 per doz.

Giant Myrtle. Large, wide-open flowers of softest pink. Lovely.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Giant Nymph. Immense rose-pink flowers with creamy yellow throats borne on tall, erect stems. Several open at one time. Fine. The supply is never equal to the demand for this wonderful variety.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Giant White. An extra large white variety of strong, rank growth; the pure white blossoms have slight pinkish lavender markings on lower petals. A garden favorite.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Gladdie Boy. No use talking, Gladdie Boy is surely a beauty. Sort of pinkish orange with yellow deep in the throat. Tall stems; 6 to 8 well placed blossoms open at one time; wavy petals; fine.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Freckles.

Gloriana. This might be called a new type of Gladiolus—the rose-bud type, as the blooms seldom open widely. The stems are tall and the color is one of the sweetest imaginable—golden salmon with a clear yellow throat. It surely is a beauty and very popular.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Glory of the U. S. A. A brilliant Glad of a peculiar shade of color, sort of a red-orange-pink combination hard to describe. There is a yellow spot on the lower petal. Several well placed blooms open at one time on tall spikes. This is an Alice Tiplady seedling, but very, very much better than his "ma." A fine Glad in every way. Each, $10.00.

Golden Glory. One of Kunderd's famous Glory family. Fine, ruffled, rich yellow blossoms with beautiful throats. Strong, sturdy spikes. Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Gold. Pure golden yellow with the throat a little deeper in color. Large blossoms and several open at one time. A favorite.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Gold Drop. An extra large and extra tall ruffled Primulinus hybrid; pure deep yellow with fine red lines in the lower petals. "Bright as a dollar."

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Gold Eagle. Good sized blooms of rich, pure deep yellow and absolutely unmarked. Several blooms open on tall, graceful stems, and best of all, it's very early. You're bound to like it.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Golden Butterfly. Fine canary yellow, faintly flushed on the outside. Lower petals deeper yellow. Tall, willowy spikes bear the gleaming, wide-open, butterfly-shaped blossoms aloft.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Golden Dream. One of the best of the Canadian originations. Tall spikes with several finely formed, well-placed golden yellow blooms open at one time. A beauty. Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Golden Frills. Intensely ruffled blooms of golden yellow with a rose-colored feather in the throat. It has a dainty clean cut appearance that is unique. If you like any kind of a yellow flower, you'll love this one. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Golden King. Clear, unfading yellow with a vivid crimson blotch in the throat. The flowers are good sized, well opened and well spaced on strong, straight spikes. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Golden Measure. Great tall upstanding spikes of pure golden yellow blossoms—and that's Golden Measure. Probably the finest Glad ever originated in England. It's as "rich as cream."

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Golden Swallow. A beautiful pure, soft yellow variety and it has no throat markings of any kind. The ruffled blossoms are simply beautiful. Recommended. "Follow the swallow, that's all."

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Golden Snapdragon. A new type of Gladiolus. Pale cream, and the two inner top petals have a zone of yellow which is very much ruffled. The central lower petal is yellow. It's hard to describe the unusual form; it must be seen to be appreciated. The florets, of which several are open at one time, are well placed on straight, slender stems. Mighty interesting.

Each, 60c; 2 for $1.00; $5.50 per doz.

Gorgeous. Bright salmon with an overlay or bloom of red. Prominent ruby blotch in the throat. Strong, sturdy spike with many brilliant blossoms open at one time. Each, 25c; $2.25 per doz.

Governor Hanley. Tall, showy, rich cardinal-red, deeper in the throat. Probably the earliest red. One of those fellows that has a chip on his shoulder. A fine variety.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Golden Glory.

Gregor Mendal. Here is a Glad of most unusual color. It is a sort of dull purple—the shade often seen in old Persian rugs. The color is hard to describe. This fine Glad must be seen to be appreciated.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Grey Parrot. Clear blue-gray, edged and striped with clear salmon, deeper red markings in the throat. Surely this is one of the most unusual of the "smoky" types it has been our privilege to see. Each, 35c; $3.40 per doz.

Gypsy Butterfly. Large blossoms of deep red with large throat blotches of cream, which resemble large butterflies nestling in the hearts of the blossoms. Florets wide open and slightly frilled. Tall spikes.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Halley. "Meteors startle the world for a moment, but fixed stars delight it forever." Halley's a fixed star. She's the standard for earliness. When a variety is spoken of as being as early as Halley, the last word in earliness has been spoken. Light salmon-pink; throat blotch, creamy striped with red. Although inexpensive, Halley is simply indispensable and should be in every garden. A prime favorite with the florists. "There's a reason."

Each, 5c; 6 for 25c; 45c per doz.

Harbinger. Here is a newcomer of a color never before seen in Glads—deep burnt orange. Large blooms, perfectly placed on the tall stems. A beauty.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Helen Wills. One of the finest white Glads in existence. The soft pale yellow shading on the lower petals just "sets it off" nicely. There are six to eight finely formed and perfectly placed blossoms open at one time on the tall, straight spike. Helen's a darling and everybody just loves her.

Each, 75c.

Helga. Tall spikes bearing many wide-open blossoms of salmon-rose, overlaid deeper rose. A fine, sturdy variety and very early. Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Henry Ford. Bright, rich purple blossoms that face outward from the stem in a double row. Often eight pairs of blossoms open at one time. Each spike a bouquet in itself.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.90 per doz.

Herada. The only one of its color in the whole "galaxy of Glads." Large blooms of clear mauve; small throat blotch of deep magenta. A mighty fine flower of distinct color and great attractiveness. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Herodian. Large showy blossoms of clear rose-pink, mottled darker. The flowers are well placed on a good spike. Like several other Australian varieties, it is hard to do justice to them by a written description. This is a pretty Glad. 'Nuf Ced. Each, $1.00.

High Nye. When we purchased a stock of this variety, we bought it for the reason that it was an extra tall one (it frequently grows six feet high), but since seeing it bloom, we are more than pleased, for it is as lovely as it is tall. Large well placed blooms of old rose with a peculiar frosted appearance and a yellow throat. Mighty fine.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Golden Swallow.

Hilda. Fine velvety deep scarlet. Tall, strong spikes. Looks like a pretty girl in a red velvet dress.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Hinemoa. One of the finest Glads that ever came from Australia and with a color combination that is startling. The immense blossoms are deep rose with darker flaking and mottling. The contrasty cream blotches on the lower petals add to its charm. Under certain weather conditions it sometimes shows smoky and chocolate markings, so that no two plants show the same color combinations. It is one fine Glad.

Each, $2.75.

Hollyhock. The tallest white Glad. Crimson blotches on the lower petals, which are ruffled and all of them are about the same size and not as pointed as is usual with most Glads. These features tend to produce a blossom that is round in shape. The tall towering spike and the large round blossoms instantly give one the impression of a white Hollyhock. It surely is a "high pocket." Stock very limited.

Each, 50c; 3 for $1.00; $3.75 per doz.

Helga.

Hollywood. Tall spikes bearing great big scarlet blossoms with light yellow throats. Striking. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Immensity. Large blossoms of bright salmon. Many open at one time. Tall, strong spikes. It's a beauty. Each, 30c; $2.90 per doz.

Improved Tiplady. Just like its mother, Alice Tiplady, except that it is bigger, taller, better in every way. It's a Salbach origination. No more need be said. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

J. A. Carbone. Immense flowers of glowing orange-salmon. Throat yellow. Tall, erect spikes. Surely a gorgeous Glad. Recommended. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Jack London. Light salmon with brilliant orange flame stripes; golden yellow throat. Wouldn't say that Jack is pretty (we reserve that adjective for the ladies), but he surely is handsome. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Jacoba Van Beyerens. A new one from the land of dykes and windmills. Large flowers of pure violet on tall, erect stems; well arranged on the spike and many open at one time. Looks good in spite of its name. We call it "Jake" for short. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Jenny Lind. If the "Swedish Nightingale" sang as sweetly as her namesake blooms, no wonder she was universally loved. The blossoms are pure apricot pink; throat pale yellow, the two colors blending to perfection. Many blooms open at one time. One of the most exquisitely beautiful of Gladioli and recommended without reserve. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Jewel. Light salmon-pink with beautiful golden throat. The flowers are large and wide open on slender, graceful stems. Just as pretty as can be. Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Joe Coleman. If you were as well acquainted with the original Joe Coleman as we are, you'd appreciate his namesake. Just such an upstanding "hale fellow well met" as Joe. A beautifully ruffled flower of rich red. Strong, vigorous and mighty fine. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

John T. Pirie. There is no Glad in the world colored like this one. The good sized blossoms are a sort of mahogany brown with dark brown, yellow bordered blotches in the throat. It's pretty, too, though you wouldn't think so from the description. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

John Henry. Rich rose blooms with a cream-colored throat which is marked with a blotch of velvety carmine. Tall spike with several perfectly placed florets in bloom at one time. Just put your John Henry on the dotted line and we will send John Henry to you. Each, $1.00.

Juno. Bright, clean, glistening orange with a darker spot on the lower petal. Several good-sized blooms open at one time and well placed on the straight stem. A Joe Coleman origination; a nice Glad. Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Kaleidoscope. Large, well-ruffled blooms of a peculiar combination of scarlet and rose. Looks differently every time you see it. As many as six well-placed blooms open at one time. A wonder. Each, $1.00.

Kasson. Large, ruffled blossoms of lavender-pink, deeper in color in the throat. A mighty pretty Glad. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Killdeer. Silvery white, creamy throat with small violet stripe. Large blossoms on tall spikes. Very pretty. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Hollyhock.

King Smoke. Intensely, rich smoky blue flaked on a rose-pink ground. A large and showy ruffled variety and one not seen on many growers' lists because of its rarity. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Kirchhoff's Violet. Tall spikes of perfectly placed blossoms of pure violet. The largest and best Glad in this color. Heartily recommended.

Each, 30c; $2.90 per doz.

Kunderdi Glory. The maternal ancestor of all ruffled Gladioli. Large, ruffled blossoms of creamy apricot, tinted light pink. Whenever you see a ruffled Glad you may be sure that it can trace its ancestry back to Glory.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 70c per doz.

Kunderd's Yellow Wonder. Fine, large blooms of deep butter yellow well placed on good, strong stems and as many as eight open at one time. The florets are absolutely unmarked; it is one fine yellow Glad.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.75 per doz.

Lacinatus. This is the forerunner of a new type in Gladioli and sold for $1000 a bulb in 1924. The edges of the petals are beautifully waved and notched. The handsome rose-pink blossoms are borne on slender, graceful spikes of good height. One large bulb will often produce several spikes of bloom.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Lady White. A miniature Glad originated by the late John Umpleby. It's creamy white faintly tinted with pale yellow in the throat. Several of the dainty little blooms open at one time and placed one above the other like little white owls perched upon a branch. The stems are tall and straight and it surely is a fine little Glad and different from the "common herd."

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Lancelot. Tall, strong spikes that carry their burden of handsome pink blossoms aloft as though borne at the top of a spear. A fine upstanding Glad.

Each, 15c; $1.40 per doz.

Larkin Blue. Another variety originated by John Umpleby. A peculiar Glad of violet-blue with prominent deep violet throat blotches, which are bordered or tipped with yellow. It gives one of the impression of a pansy. Several well placed, good sized blooms open at one time.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.90 per doz.

La Vange. Large, white, ruffled blossoms with a rosy cerise throat. Bright and cheerful. A fine variety not seen in many gardens.

Each, 25c; $2.50 per doz.

Lavender Bride. Just imagine a lavender Glad with a smoky edge. Several immense, ruffled, well-placed blooms open at one time. Tall, straight spike. It's a beauty. Each, 50c.

Lavender Frills. Just what its name implies. Lavender, shading to fawn on the lower petals. Good color; extra long spike. Fine.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Le Marechal Foch. Large blossoms of bright pink, well placed on a good spike; very popular.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Lena Graetz. Tall spikes; pure white blossoms; many open at one time; one of the best inexpensive white varieties.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Lillian. Tall spikes of pale pink ruffled blossoms which are darker in the throat. A fine variety.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Lillian Webb. Strawberry-pink with velvety light maroon center. The flowers are lily-shaped and face upwards.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Lily White. One of the early pure white Gladioli. A fine variety and a florist's favorite.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 70c per doz.

L'Immaculee. Long spike of pure white blossoms. Several open at one time. Spikes have a tendency to crook, which adds to their grace. Very early.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Linton. Upper petals salmon-rose; lower petals yellow. Tall and well ruffled.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Little Bill. Dainty little cream colored flowers with purplish throat lines. Slender stems. Fine for a bud vase.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Longfellow. Tall spikes with several blossoms open at one time. Supposed to be La France-pink (whatever that is), but it is the color of a wild rose newly blown. It stands in the front rank with all the best pink Glads in the world and there are some mighty pretty pink Glads. You'll like Longfellow.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Los Angeles. Immense spikes bearing huge blossoms of shrimp-pink with a throat of orange tinted with carmine. A Pacific Coast sensation. The "cut and come again" Glad.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Louise. Now here's a real beauty. Fine bright bluish lavender with a wine-colored blotch on lower petals. A sturdy grower with magnificent wide-open flowers. You'll love Louise.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Louis Hemon. We have been fortunate enough to secure a limited number of bulbs of the remarkable French Gladiolus, Louis Hemon. (Pronounced Looey Hayman). Of all the bizarre, unusual, peculiar, striking Glads, "Louis" heads the list. The color is yellow and orange-red with such a peculiar arrangement of color that you will agree with the man who saw the giraffe at the circus and said, "There ain't no such animal." It's not a symphony in color, but a combined circus band, jazz orchestra, horse fiddle, sky rocket, pin wheel and fire cracker combination. Take our word for it, Louis has "IT." Stock quite limited.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.90 per doz.

Lullaby. This is surely one of the prettiest Glads Kunderd has originated. Clear, bright yellow with the edges of the petals tinted brilliant orange. Straight, graceful stems; several well-placed florets open at one time. It should have been named Oriole or Goldfinch or some other bright plumaged bird. Has a sort of clean appearance and reminds one of a little chap on his way to Sunday School with his face shining and his hair all "slick."

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.90 per doz.

Lucette. Pure white with a slender feather of pink on the lower petals. Fine in the garden and an excellent cut flower.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mabel Irving. The immense, clear pink, ruffled blossoms are well placed on tall, straight stems. Several open at one time. Beautiful.

Each, 75c.

Madison Cooper. A fine upstanding variety of deep dark red of a peculiarly pleasing shade. A good one.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Magic. Tall spikes of lavender-blue blossoms marked with rich purple throat blotches. Pretty.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mahdi. Tall spikes bearing large, well-opened blossoms of crimson-maroon, with a small yellow dash (like a little chin whisker) on the lower petal. The blooms are well placed and several open at one time. A fine dark Australian.

Each, $1.00.

Maiden's Blush. Exquisite flowers of delicate pink shading lighter in throat. Could not be more daintily colored if painted with a fairy's brush. The spikes are tall and carry their beautiful burden of blossoms gracefully. Frequently a bulb will present you with several spikes. Very early and a choice florist's flower.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Mantorville. Beautiful ruffled yellow splashed with pink. A splendid variety not seen on many lists and which should be better known.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Marble Barred. Good sized blossoms of white, beautifully striped, stippled and speckled with pink. The spikes are very tall and the flowers well placed. A novelty and seldom seen on any dealer's list.

Each, 30c; $2.75 per doz.

Margaret Glendinning. A daughter of Rose Ash and even more beautiful than her mother, which she resembles. Like most girls of the present day, she's a little ahead of her mother, blooming about a week earlier. The blossoms contain more rose-pink than the parent. Stately and exceedingly beautiful.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Marion Koch. One of the most beautiful Glads in existence. Soft, tender pink, shading to the creamy yellow throat; the two colors blend so perfectly that it is impossible to tell where the pink ends and the cream begins. One of the new needle-point type. Many perfectly formed and perfectly placed florets open at one time. Truly a wonderful Glad. You'll adore it.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Marjorie Smith. Massive vermillion flowers that have an unusual velvety appearance; almost self colored.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Marmorata. Immense, perfectly placed flowers of grayish lavender with a deeper blotch in the throat. Many florets open at one time. It is a blue sport of Emile Aubrun and looks like that variety would look if viewed through a blue glass. A prize winner wherever shown and one you would be proud to grow.

Each, $1.00.

Marnia. Brilliant blooms of golden orange on the best of spikes. Beautiful in the garden and fine for cut flower purposes.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Marshal Foch. Tall spikes bearing large, ruffled flowers of warm salmon-pink, the salmon tint being more pronounced toward the edge of the petals. Has a sort of dignity about him that is bound to appeal to you. Very fine.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Martha Washington. Large, light red flowers with throat blotches that are almost black. Looks for all the world like a Martha Washington geranium. A beauty.

Each, 25c; $2.25 per doz.

Mary Fennell. Deep lilac, shading paler; soft primrose-yellow throat. Distinct, dainty and altogether lovely.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Mary Frey. Large lavender blossoms, perfectly placed on the best of stems. The earliest lavender to bloom in the garden and mighty welcome. Recommended.

Each, $1.00.

Mary o' Mine has been proved to be the largest white Gladiolus in existence and stands shoulder to shoulder with the giant Gladioli of all colors. Unlike many white Glads, Mary o' Mine is as strong and as sturdy as a Prim. hybrid, and almost as fast a propagator. No doubt this variety will take first place among white varieties both as a commercial and as an exhibition variety, for Gersdorff rates Mary o' Mine at 90 exhibition and 90.2 commercial. It is hard to visualize an immense spike of pure white Gladiolus blossoms with five or six open at one time and the bottom floret measuring eight inches across, but eight-inch blossoms are not uncommon with Mary o' Mine. If you want the biggest, best, whitest, white Glad you'll never have it until you grow Mary o' Mine.

Mary o' Mine.

Each, $1.00; $10.00 per doz.

Mary Pickford. An extraordinary flower of delicate creamy white with a throat of softest sulphur yellow. Even the stem and calyx are white. Certainly a little beauty and you'll love her.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Mary Stearns Burke. Here is a distinct addition to any garden. The flowers are canary yellow overlaid with apricot; deep canary center. The spike is tall with the flowers symmetrically arranged. Exceptionally good.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Masterpiece. Immense ruffled blossoms of American Beauty rose color. Strong, sturdy and mighty fine.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Maurice Fuld. Enormous blossoms of rich rose-pink with a deep rose blotch on a pure white throat. Blossoms often six inches in diameter and of excellent substance. A truly wonderful variety and one we can heartily recommend.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.90 per doz.

Melvin. Tall spikes of brilliant scarlet, flecked and tigered with dark red. Florets arranged in a double row. Looks like a tiger with the red light thrown upon him. A fine Australian Glad.

Each, $1.00.

Midnight Sun. Tall, slender spikes of bright yellow blossoms with distinct red lines in the throat. Pretty.

Each, 5c; 50c per doz.

Ming Toy. Large blossoms of finest form and perfect placement on tall stems. Deep buff with a yellow throat. A beauty.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Minuet. One of the finest lavender Glads. Tall spikes, large blossoms, sturdy constitution—everything a good Glad should have. Each, 75c.

Miss Billie. Exquisite solid deep rose with sharply pointed petals. Large flowers, beautiful color and as fine as silk.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Miss T. Rose. Large blossoms well placed on extra tall spikes. Colored creamy yellow and pink like a delicate Tea rose. Fine.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mission Bells. Here is one of the loveliest and most distinct Glads seen for "many a moon." Six or seven large, bell-shaped blossoms of rich orange-pink are open at one time and are borne on tall, slender, wiry stems and placed in such a manner as to suggest a chime of bells. Sort of a Chinese pagoda effect. Perfectly lovely.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Mona Lisa. Magnificent ruffled flowers of softest rose-pink, with a lavender tint. Strong plant with several blossoms open at one time. A splendid variety well worth having.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Monon. Dark rose-pink, flaked darker; upper throat lighter, lower throat darker. Tall, straight spike with several flowers open at one time. One of the real good ones and mighty scarce, too.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Monte Carlo. Bright pinkish salmon with a yellow throat. Beautiful soft coloration. It just seems that it should taste as good as it looks. 8 to 10 good-sized ruffled blossoms open at one time. Compactly placed though not too crowded. A perfect beauty.

Each, $1.00.

Mottled Beauty. Large, intensely ruffled blossoms of light pink, heavily flaked and mottled with carmine. A strikingly beautiful Glad, and when once seen is never forgotten.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Mr. Mark. A blue Glad that is hard to beat. The flowers are light blue with a darker blotch in the throat. Growth is more robust than most blue varieties, many of which are "weak brothers."

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Mr. W. H. Phipps. Soft pink tinged with light rosy salmon; lower petals faintly striped and speckled with ruby. Many enormous flowers open at one time on the tall, stately spike. A masterpiece.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Mrs. A. C. Beal. White, faintly blushed with pink; pale yellow throat blotches with prominent scarlet feathers. Large blossoms, several of them open at one time on tall, strong spikes. A good one.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Mrs. Annie Krettner. Mr. Umpleby must have thought a lot of this Glad, for he named it for his sister. It is of the same type as Viola Bird and Lady White. Creamy white, flushed with pink with very prominent rose throat blotches. Several of the nice little well-placed blooms open at one time on the tall, slender stem. A fine miniature.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.75 per doz.

Mrs. Cothran. A peculiar combination of red and gray with a sort of iridescence that is hard to describe. Looks as though the lady was wearing a dress of changeable silk. Mighty pretty.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Mrs. Dr. Norton. One of the most beautiful Glads in existence. Silvery white blossoms daintily tinged with pink, deepening toward the edges. Rich, creamy throat. Absolutely good. Adds distinction to any garden. Heartily recommended.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mrs. F. C. Peters. Fine rosy lilac blossoms with softest crimson blotch; slightly ruffled and many open at one time; tall, vigorous and mighty fine.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mrs. Francis King. Long spike of immense flowers of light scarlet or flame-red, shaded salmon. One of the older varieties, but it will be a long time before it is supplanted in popularity by any other Gladiolus.

Each, 5c; 6 for 25c; 45c per doz.

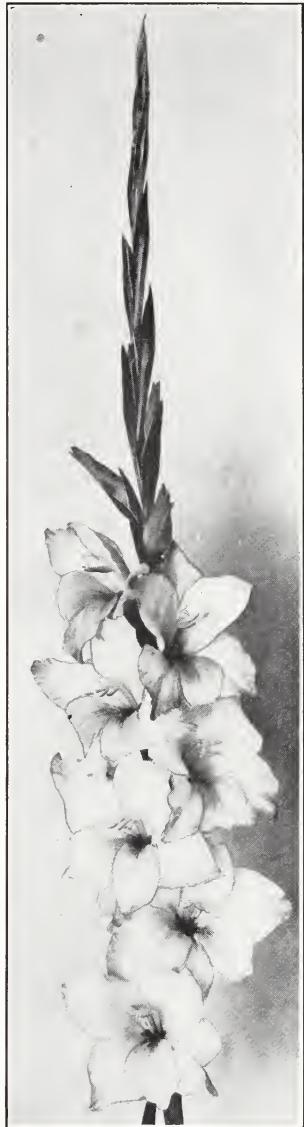

Mrs. Frank Pendleton, Jr. Tall, majestic spikes of rose-pink blossoms bearing a giant blotch of richest velvety carmine on the lower petals. One of the good "old timers."

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 70c per doz.

Mrs. G. W. Moulton. Here is another tall, stately lady. The immense violet-red flowers are proudly borne aloft on tall, strong spikes. One of the best in its color and sure to give satisfaction.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

"A hard-boiled egg has as much yellow in it as any other kind."

Mrs. Dr. Norton.

Mrs. H. E. Bothin. Flesh pink, tinted salmon; flame scarlet center; heavily ruffled. A mighty pleasing color combination. Flowers are large and correctly spaced on the stem. A beauty. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.45 per doz.

Mrs. Leon Douglas. Enormous rose-colored blossoms striped with scarlet. Extra long spikes. This is probably one of the largest Glads in existence. Exceedingly beautiful. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Mrs. M. Singer. Pinkish lavender or orchid with the most peculiar and attractive throat blotches of golden brown, over which there is a feather of cerise. Large blossoms, well placed on tall spikes. Fine. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Mrs. P. W. Sisson. Ah! Here's a perfect beauty. Immense, ruffled blossoms of the softest pink, delicately shading to a creamy white throat. The blooms are perfectly placed on the tall willowy spike. Without doubt, one of the most beautiful pink Glads in existence. Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.50 per doz.

Mrs. Rudolph Spreckles. Light shrimp pink with bright rose stripes; lower petals are shaded with apricot and have a large ruby spot. Many blossoms open at one time. Fine variety; "all dressed up like a Christmas tree." Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.40 per doz.

Mrs. F. C. Peters. (See page 18).

Mrs. Van Konyenburg. They say there is no such thing as a blue Gladiolus. Maybe so, but if this one is not blue, it's so near blue no one can tell where the blue stops and the violet begins. Large flowers, well placed and several of them open at one time. One of the best Glads ever originated in Holland. A beauty. Each, $1.00.

Mrs. Watt. Brilliant, glowing "American Beauty" red. Fine flowers of distinct color. Brightens "the corner where she is." Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mrs. Wm. E. Clark. Large flowers of rich salmon-pink with a prominent crimson blotch. The blossoms are perfectly placed on the best of spikes. A mighty fine Glad. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Mrs. W. E. Fryer. Here is one of those jolly ladies that has a smile for everyone. Large, cheerful flowers of brilliant orange scarlet on good, strong stems, smile clear across the garden at you. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mrs. Wm. Kent. Light rosy fawn, lightly striped with rose-pink. Old rose in the throat. Many blossoms open at one time. One spike makes a beautiful bouquet. Its unusual color combination makes it a welcome addition to any garden. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Mt. Ranier. Glistening ivory white with a gleam of gold in the center which bears a slender feather of purplish. Tall, strong spikes with several open. Stands hot, dry weather like an Arab. Fine. Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.40 per doz.

Muriel. One of the loveliest lavender varieties. She just needs the small dark spot in the throat to enhance her beauty. Spikes are tall and straight. Several flowers open at one time. Mighty fine. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Myra. An exquisitely showy and giant-flowered Primulinus hybrid. Yellow with a salmon suffusion; throat yellow with pink lines. The flowers are borne on lofty, graceful, slender stems. A splendid variety. Myra's a favorite, and justly so. See illustration on page 20. Each, 5c; 50c per doz.

Mystic. Bright rose-pink, flaked deeper. Large, prominent pure white blotches on the lower petals. Large flower; tall spike; attractive color. Certainly a beauty. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Nancy Hanks. Large blossoms of richest apricot perfectly placed on good, strong stems. Several blossoms open at one time. It surely is a pretty Glad and is especially good as a cut flower. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Neoga. Large, dark garnet-red blossom with darker throat. Sturdy spikes. A good, dependable variety. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Netherlands. Beautiful salmon-rose with ruby feathering on lower petals. An uncommon variety not seen in many gardens. Early and fine.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Niagara. Pleasing shade of creamy yellow, frequently flaked and splashed with bright pink. Large flowers on good, strong spikes. One of the "Old Guard," but still as popular as it is beautiful.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 70c per doz.

Nimrod. Large blooms of real dark crimson, flecked at the edges with a color so dark as to appear almost black. A fine dark variety from Australia. Each, 75c; $7.50 per doz.

Nokomis. Large ruffled blossoms of scarlet, flaked mahogany at the tips of the petals. Fine yellow lines in the throat. Different.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Nora. Beautiful light lavender-blue with a darker spot on the lower petals. One of the most pleasing of the "blues."

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Norma Dee Childs. Delicate blush white, softly penciled rose; sulphur yellow throat. The large, glistening flowers are lovely.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Obelisque. Tall, stately spike of immense creamy yellow, wide open blossoms with deep yellow throats. A perfect beauty.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Ocellus. Our 1927 introduction. The outstanding figure in Glad-dom. So different and so brilliantly beautiful that it is hard to realize it is a Glad and not a Cattleya orchid. Good-sized blossoms; six to eight open at one time; tall straight spikes; perfect placement of florets—everything a perfect Glad should have. Then—see the wonderful color: pinkish lavender with a very prominent violet blotch with an outline of yellow on the lower petal. No written description can convey to the eye the striking resemblance to a peacock feather. It must be seen.

Each, $2.50; $20.00 per doz.

Odin. Dark salmon-pink with bright carmine blotch. Early and fine. A beauty.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Ohio State. A brand new Austin origination. Great big, beautiful blossoms of the most exquisite shade of brilliant rose-pink; large blotches of cream on the lower petals. As many as eight widely spread, perfectly placed florets open at one time on the tall, graceful stem. A wonderful flower named for a wonderful state by a wonderful lady—Mrs. Austin. No more need be said.

Each, $2.50.

Old Glory. Fine shade of dark red with fine hair lines of white over the entire surface of the large blossoms. The petals are bordered with a fine pin stripe of white. A fancy variety in a class by itself. There is no other like it. Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.25 per doz.

NOTICE—The picture labeled OCELLUS in our 1930 catalog was NOT Ocellus. This is the true picture of OCELLUS.

Olivar. Rich, deep violet, lighter in the upper throat and with a deep red-purple blotch on each of the three lower petals. Royally colored and the blossoms are held as proudly erect as a kingly banner. Another beauty from Australia. Recommended.

Each, $1.25.

Olive Goodrich. Pure white, with an edge of pink all around each petal. A strikingly beautiful Glad with several well-placed florets open at one time on excellent spikes. In a color class all by itself and heartily recommended.

Each, 35c; $3.40 per doz.

"A journey of a thousand miles starts with a single step."

Myra. (See page 18).

Patricia Carter. Beautiful soft shrimp-pink blossoms perfectly placed on the long, graceful stems have made this one of the most popular Glads of recent introduction. You'll love her.

Each, 50c.

Peace. Extra tall spikes of pure white blossoms with pale lilac feathering in lower petals. Large blossoms and an excellent late variety.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Peace Rose. Well named. A beautiful flower of deep rose-pink with a darker marking in the throat. Wondrously handsome.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Pearl of California. Clear pink, shading to a rosy white throat. Many well-placed blossoms open at one time. Each spike is a bouquet in itself. Recommended.

Each, 40c; $3.50 per doz.

Pearl of Dawn. Bright rose-pink blossoms with the color deepening toward the edges. Center lighter with large red throat markings. A beauty.

Each, 25c; $2.25 per doz.

Opalescent. Beautiful spikes of broad petaled blossoms of pale rosy lavender. The petals have a sort of iridescence or frosted appearance which adds to their beauty. A mighty fine Glad and an "added attraction" to any garden. Recommended. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Orange Brilliant. One of the Primulinus hybrids from Holland. If the word "cute" is ever excusable, it may be applied to this one. The tall spikes are filled with medium sized blossoms of the most brilliant orange imaginable. It is among the first to bloom in the garden. Has good keeping qualities when cut and a vase or basket of it is surely an "eye-opener." Each, 5c; 40c per doz.

Osalin. Lovely orange-pink, with soft orange markings in the throat. Large flowers, finely placed, several open at one time and good height of spike combine to make Osalin a favorite. It surely is a beauty.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Othello. Rich, deep violet blossoms with an inconspicuous red-violet tongue. Several wide open, well placed florets in bloom at one time. A beauty. "Clad in purple and fine linen." Each, $1.00.

Papilio Rose. Pale lilac-rose; conspicuous blotch of primrose yellow in the center. Widely opened blossoms; excellent spike. A rare French variety not seen in many gardens. Creates admiration wherever grown.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.25 per doz.

Pasadena. A shade deeper than shrimp-pink and a little lighter than red. Creamy white blotch in the throat which serves as a setting for the ruby feather. Immense wide open, flaring flowers and plenty of them open at one time. Each spike a great big beautiful bouquet. A dandy.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.25 per doz.

Parma. Rose-pink, with the lower petals marked with pale yellow; beautiful in its soft pastel coloring. Tall spike; blossoms well placed.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Pelletier D'Oisy. Named for the famous French war ace, but if there ever was a Glad that should have been named Pat or Mike, this is the one, for it has the colors of "Old Ireland." The color is most unusual—yellowish green with orange-red tips. The throat is sprinkled with maroon. It's no use to try to describe it or to try to pronounce its name, it "ain't nothin' else" but the green Glad. Good sized blooms well placed on long stems.

Each, 75c; $7.00 per doz.

Pfitzer's Triumph. A masterpiece. Immense, six-inch blooms of orange-red with a velvety red blotch in the center. The petals reflex so that the gigantic flowers are almost flat. The spike is all one could desire. There is no doubt that this is the finest Glad ever originated in Germany. One you will be proud to show your neighbors. Supply very limited.

Each, 60c; $5.75 per doz.

Pennant. This is the American variety of the same name as the one from Australia and was introduced by Gersdorff. The big blossoms are bright rose with immense throat blotches of cream, 5 to 7 well arranged blossoms open at one time. Strikingly brilliant and beautiful.

Each, 50c.

Pink Beauty. About the earliest Gladiolus to bloom. The blossoms are rose-pink with fine dark red blotches. Many flowers open at one time. While the blossoms are not as large as some, still they are very welcome, for no other variety comes into bloom as early.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Pink Lady. Charming clear salmon-rose; large blossomis arranged on tall, straight spikes. Sort of reminds one of Giant Nymph, though of a very different color. Extra good cut flower, as it has fine keeping qualities.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.25 per doz.

Pink Lily. One of the finest pink Gladioli. The large, intensely ruffled flowers are deep rose-pink. The exact shade is so hard to describe that this variety must be seen to be fully appreciated. The buds are ruffled and remind one of rose buds. Recommended without reserve.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Pink Perfection. An exquisitely lovely flower of La France-pink; throat paler with a peculiar frosted appearance. Its soft coloring, graceful, willowy stems, many flowers open at one time, combine to make it "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Pink Wonder. Wondrously beautiful. The color is light pink with yellow shading at the base of lower petals, overlaid with a feathering of rose. Tall spikes with four or five massive, glistening blossoms open at one time. Recommended without reserve.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Point Twain. Large blossoms of clear pink. The two lower petals usually roll to a point, hence the name. A wonderfully beautiful Glad and deservedly popular.

Each, $7.50.

Pola Negri. Great ruffled blossoms of pale apricot, tinted and flecked at the edges with a deeper tint. Lower petals pale yellow. A pretty variety and popular with those who like the more delicate shades.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Pollyanna. A mighty pretty Glad of rich golden yellow without throat markings. The blooms are perfectly placed and there are several of them open at one time; they are ruffled, too. You'll be glad if Pollyanna comes to your garden.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

President Menocal. One of the most intensely ruffled of Gladioli. Bright yellow with a pink border; large, red blotches on the lower petals. Tall spikes. Fine.

Each, 25c; 3 for 65c; $2.25 per doz.

Pride of Lancaster. Bright orange-salmon with prominent red-orange blotches in the throat. Several large, ruffled, well placed blooms open at one time. A fine variety.

Prim Picotee.

Each, 10c; 90c per doz.

Pride of Wanakah. A great big, handsome fellow of rich lavender-rose, shading to a deeper rose in the throat. Tall spike, large flowers, strikingly showy. A variety that will hold its own among the very best. Recommended.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Prim Beauty. A Dracocephalus hybrid by Christy. Large blossoms of cream, heavily lined and pin striped with salmon, giving a color effect of rich salmon-buff. Striking and pretty.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Prim Picotee. Gladiolus Bill surely had a hearty laugh when he placed his variety on the market. He should have named it Harlequin. Imagine a bright red blossom shaped like a lily with a distinct yellow edge to each petal and that's Prim Picotee. Large blossoms. Distinct and unusual? I'll say it is.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Primrose Beauty. A mighty pretty yellow Glad that should be better known. One of those strong, husky boys that never has to take "time out." Tall, strong spikes of large, primrose-yellow flowers. Early and very good.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Primulinus Hybrids. These dainty little fellows are obtained by crossing the wild Primulinus species with the larger flowering type of Gladioli; and come in a variety of colors, such as various shades of yellow, salmon, red, pink, saffron, orange and various combinations of the above. As cut flowers, they stand supreme, and the price is so reasonable that anyone who has room for them can well afford to plant a few dozen for cut flowers alone. The stems are willowy and graceful and they are easily arranged in vases or baskets. Usually one bulb will furnish more than one spike of blossoms.

Per doz., 30c; $2.00 per 100.

Primunella. Large, ruffled blossoms of orange-saffron. Fine and beautiful.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Princely. Very light pink—almost white. Large, wide open flowers, often 5 inches in diameter and several open at one time, well placed on tall, graceful spikes. This magnificent variety is certainly well named for no adjective short of Princely would describe it.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Prince of Wales. Softest salmon with an apricot under-tone. Large flowers and very early. Beautiful and deservedly popular.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Princeps. Large, bright red blossoms with prominent creamy throat blotches. An old timer but still popular.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Princess of Orange. Formerly known as K's Orange. Bright vermillion with white stripes on the lower petals. This is another variety that should be better known.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 95c per doz.

Principine. Brilliant carmine-red with large white throat blotches. The most intensely brilliant Glad in the garden. Can be seen "a mile away." Striking when planted en masse.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Purple Butterfly. It don't take much imagination to picture 6 to 8 purple butterflies, perched one above the other on the spike when you see this variety. It's a beauty and no mistake.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Pythia. Magnificent, stately spikes of gigantic red blossoms. Several open at one time. Showy in the extreme. The most popular red Glad and deservedly so. A bouquet of Pythia would stop a circus parade.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Purple Glory. Deepest velvety maroon-red with almost black blotches. Words fail to describe its majestic beauty. A perfect giant among Gladioli. Must be seen to be appreciated. Recommended.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Purple Queen. Rich violet-purple with a deeper throat. The blossoms are nicely ruffled, too. Surely is a regal flower.

Each, $1.00.

Quinte Sunset. Excellent clear lavender-blue, light throat lines; perfectly formed. 16 to 20 blossoms to the spike. Fine.

Each, $1.00.

Quinton. One of the ever welcome early Glads. It is a seedling of Halley and inherits her earliness. The tall, slender spikes carry the handsome blossoms in perfect manner. The pale yellow blotch on the lower petals, combines beautifully with the soft pink blossoms.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Red Butterfly. Large, intensely ruffled blossoms of bright rose-red, flecked with a deeper shade of red. Large, dark red throat blotches. A mighty fine new red Glad.

Each, 50c; $5.00 per doz.

Red Canna. Probably the tallest Glad. Has been grown nearly six feet tall. Brilliant red self color. A fine variety.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Red Copper. Large flowers of deep rosy salmon, heavily flaked blue. A very unusual combination of colors and greatly admired.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Red Glory. Here is a real beauty. It is a sport of Purple Glory which it resembles in everything but the color, which is rich fiery red. It is a mighty rare Glad and our stock is very limited. If you want it, you'd better order early.

Each, $1.00.

Pythia.

Rosemary.

Romance. The large flowers are orange-salmon, tinged with rose with blue bordered petals. Red and yellow throat. Unusually distinct and very showy.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Rosalind. Dark aniline-red with deeper colored throat. Ruffled. So distinct and lovely that it must be seen to fully appreciate its gorgeous beauty. Our supply is limited. Each, 35c.

Rose Marie. Sparkling clear rose overlaid with deeper rose. Extra large florets of splendid texture well placed on perfect spikes.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.75 per doz.

Rose Mist. Large flowers of a peculiar color, hard to describe but termed by the originator as crushed strawberry. A tall, vigorous and very beautiful variety. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Rose Ash. One of the most popular flowers in our garden. The color is an exquisite old rose, blended with ashes of roses; one of the loveliest combinations of colors; finely ruffled; tall, straight spikes. A really magnetic flower that at once attracts the eye.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Regulus. Tall spikes bearing large flowers of orange-salmon with delicate yellow throats. Fine.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Remembrance. Deep salmon-pink blossoms. Prominent throat blotches. Tall spikes with many large, ruffled flowers open at one time.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Rev. Ewbank. Beautiful blue blossoms on good, strong spikes. As dainty and pretty as a Delft tile.

Each, 25c; 3 for 65c;

$2.40 per doz.

Richard Diener.

Pure salmon-rose; light sprinkling of ruby on the creamy yellow center. The immense blossoms on tall, stately spikes create a sensation wherever seen. A truly majestic flower.

Each, 15c; $1.40 per doz.

Rippling Waters. Delicate, soft creamy blossoms with a faint flaking or suffusion of very light pink. Seems almost too pretty to be real. Though the coloring is very delicate, the size of the blooms is the reverse. As many as eight large florets open at one time on the tall, heavy spike. It's surely a winner with those who delight in the delicate shades of color. Each, $2.00.

Roanoke. Large, rich, yellow Primulinus hybrid; vigorous and strong. The first yellow to bloom in our garden and a mighty welcome fellow, too. He's a beauty, glistening with dew early in the morning, when the summer is young.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

1910 Rose. Very large flower of pure rose-pink; white central lines on the lower petals. One of the best and most dependable varieties in existence. Its unusually good substance makes it a popular cut flower with the florists. Recommended.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Rosemary (That's for remembrance). The dearest, sweetest Glad ever grown. White, thickly marked with fine parallel hairlines and stipplings of lavender-rose. The markings are carried clear through the petals, so the back of the blossom looks the same as the front. Good sized blooms carried on tall, gracefully erect stems. Several open at one time. Easily arranged in vase or basket, for it is not necessary to have the spikes facing outward, as the backs of the blossoms are as handsome as their faces. There never was a Glad like Rosemary, and you'll regret it if she is not smiling at you in your garden.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

"Poverty is not a crime, but the penalty is hard labor, just the same."

Rose Pearl. Wilbrinck's her "daddy" and Halley is her grandmother. Has all the good qualities of both parent and grandparent, but lacks the yellow markings on the lower petals possessed by both. The large, well-expanded rose-colored blossoms have a pearl-like luster and are exceedingly fine.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Rouge Torch. Creamy petals contrasted with the crimson velvety tongue in the throat combine to produce blossoms that are strikingly handsome. Slender, graceful spikes.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Rozan. Immense blossoms of rose-pink with cream-colored throat; from 5 to 7 perfectly placed florets open at one time. Surely one of the most outstanding new Glads; looks just good enough to eat.

Each, $1.00.

Ruby Gem. Good sized, triangular, ruffled and laciniated blooms well placed on strong, sturdy, graceful stems. The color is a dazzling ruby-red that fairly sparkles like a gem. Even the stems are tinted with red. It's a mighty pretty Glad.

Each, $1.00.

Ruffolace. As white as snow and not only nicely ruffled, but it is finely laciniated or fringed. The flowers average four inches or more in diameter and are borne on tall, stout stems. Stock very limited.

Each, $1.00.

Ruffled Gold. Large golden yellow blossoms well placed on good stems. Nicely ruffled. A good one.

Each, $2.00.

Salbach's Prim. Peach-red, shading to strawberry-pink with yellow tips on the two lower petals. The long, slender spikes carry many large, beautifully ruffled blooms open at one time. Adds a cheerful note to the garden chorus.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Salmon Beauty. Tall, graceful spikes bearing large, showy salmon flowers; throat of pure gold. Mighty pretty and mighty good.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Salmon Glow. Soft salmon with a pinkish undertone and with a beautifully harmonizing throat of pale yellow. Large flowers, well placed on tall stems. It is an "early bird."

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Santa Barbara. Extremely broad petals that are ruffled their entire length, rather than at the edges as with most ruffled Glads. The immense blossoms are a very delicate pink color, well placed on the best of stems.

Each, 75c.

Sappho. A mighty oddly colored variety. The medium-sized blossoms are smoky blue. The throat blotches are pale cream with a reddish violet feather. A favorite with those who like the smoky ones.

Each, 35c; $3.40 per doz.

Saraband. Very large wide open blossom of rich velvety wine color with a straw-colored blotch. Tall spike, perfect placement and excellent substance. Unusual and as rich as a Navajo blanket.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.50 per doz.

Scarlano. Imagine a fine spike of bright orange-red, finely ruffled flowers and you have a mental conception of Scarlano. He surely has a sunny disposition and we know he is an optimist.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Scarlet Glory. Ruffled blossoms of a very rich and distinct shade of red. A beauty.

Each, 20c; $1.90 per doz.

Scarlet Princeps. Extra strong spikes of massive scarlet blossoms; six or more open at one time. A flaming torch that attracts attention from a distance. Gorgeous and extra fine.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Scarlet Wonder. Large, glowing, brilliant, velvety, pure scarlet flowers. Several open at one time and perfectly placed on tall, strong stems. It surely is a red hot number and the air is ten degrees hotter in its immediate vicinity.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Scarsdale. Lavender-pink, shading to old rose. Large and well opened blossoms. An oddly handsome flower.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Schwaben. Large spikes of immense blossoms of waxy yellow; small brownish red spot in the throat. An old-time favorite and still popular.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 70c per doz.

Sedan. A fine ruffled Primulinus hybrid. Rich yellow with crimson lines on lower petals.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Sensation. Bright red with a darker throat. A broad band of yellow on each petal. The flowers are lily-shaped and face upward. Unusual, brilliant and showy.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Sentinel. Extra tall, strong plant, towering above his brothers like the sentry that he is. The handsome flowers are rose-pink with white penciled throat. You can almost hear him shout, "All's well." Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Sheila. A beauty. The immense salmon flowers are held aloft on stately stems. You need "a bit o' blarney" in your garden.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Sidney Plummer. Large, well placed, ruffled blossoms of beautiful soft yellow, suffused delicate pink. Many open at one time. Choice.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Sirius. This fine Glad is not one of the tall, langorous show girls, but is a member of the pony ballet. There is no finer variety for the front of the Gladiolus bed than Sirius. The flowers of dark salmon with brighter throat are of good size, but the stems are not so tall as some others, eminently fitting her for the front row of the ballet.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Snapdragon. Here is the first of an entirely new type of Gladiolus. It looks just like its name. Several small blossoms of red with a yellow throat open at one time on the slender, straight stem. It's as dainty as can be and it is small enough to use in a bud vase.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Snow Boy. He's so tall, he should have been named "North Pole." White, sometimes marked with maroon blotch. Many large flowers of finest form open at one time. Talk about a stately Glad, here's one that from a short distance resembles a hollyhock.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.45 per doz.

Souvenir. Fine golden yellow blossoms, well placed on tall, slender stems. A mighty nice Glad and best of all, it's a regular early bird; the first yellow to bloom in the early summer.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Stalwart. Several good-sized blossoms, widely open, are borne on the extra tall spikes. The color is more than pleasing, being cream, shading to yellow in the throat. Fine.

Each, 15c; $1.40 per doz.

Starbright. A Glad so distinctly and decidedly different as to appear unreal. Beautiful daffodil yellow blossoms with a broad and distinct band or stripe of rose through the center of each one of the six petals. No Glad on earth has this distinct marking. It's a "really, truly" star and it fairly twinkles at you. Good sized blooms well placed on tall, straight stems; several open at one time; wonderful substance, both as a cut flower or in the garden; strong, vigorous growth and foliage—in fact, every good quality desired in a Glad. Add to this its unusual beauty and strikingly different markings and it will readily be seen why "meteors may startle the world for a moment" but Starbright will "delight it forever."

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Star of the Sea. Peach-red, shading to a very light throat. On the lower petal there is a very prominent blotch of brownish scarlet, sprinkled with gold dust. Immense, wide open, flaring, star-shaped blossoms compactly placed, though not crowded. Tall, slender, graceful spikes with several florets open at one time. Surely one of the handsomest Glads in existence today. Everybody loves Star of the Sea.

Each, $1.00.

Sulphur Glow. Several large, widely expanded, intensely ruffled flowers of soft yellow open at one time. Sturdy and good.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Summer. Mauve-lilac with a lighter throat. Wide open flowers on good spikes. Rich coloring and fine form.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Summer Beauty. Tall spikes of beautiful pink blossoms. Many open at one time. Each spike is a bouquet in itself.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Sunkist Fairy. Pale apricot-orange, lighter on lower petals; brilliant flame-orange throat markings. Several well-placed florets open at one time. Tall, straight stems. A mighty pretty Glad.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Sunnymede. Brilliant orange-yellow with a bright red blotch. A distinct and unusual Glad and a fine one. See illustration on page 27.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Sunset Glow. Beautiful Primulinus hybrid of orange-scarlet. Very brilliant and very early.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Sunshine. A peculiarly cheerful shade of orange-red with a beautiful yellow throat. Large blossoms on good spikes. About as lively and cheerful as any Glad we know. Has a smile that won't wear off.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Superba. Surely this fine Glad is well named. It's nothing else but superb. Immense blooms of rosy red with a cardinal feather in the throat. The florets are well placed and the spikes are tall. That's about all one could ask of a Glad.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Sweet Rose. Purest rose with a deeper colored feather in the throat. Well formed blooms, perfectly placed on fine stems. Mighty fine.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.40 per doz.

Sweet Lavender. A lovely combination of light lavender-pink blending into creamy yellow, with a prominent magenta blotch. Beautiful and imposing. Extra early and extra good.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Starbright.

The Pearl. Delicate light pink with a creamy throat; several flowers open at one time; stems slender and graceful; early and a fine cut flower. Just as dainty as can be.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

The Pelican. Certainly an "odd genius." Bill says, "The upper central petal resembles a pelican's pouch inverted. The other two upper petals stand well apart while the three lower petals are small." Deep pink over a lighter pink. Two lower petals yellow. Striking.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

The Quakeress. A peculiar, interesting and oddly beautiful Glad. Just imagine a flower of dove color with a yellow throat. Ruffled. Several good sized blooms open at one time. Mighty well named, for it surely is quiet and demure. It will be a revelation to those who like the "smoky" tints.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Sword of Mahomet. A peculiar red, blue and "smoky" combination of color. Reminds one of a Persian rug. Extra tall spikes bearing 18 to 20 florets; generous with side spikes, too; nearly always two and sometimes three of them. If you like "smoky" Glads, you'll like this one.

Each, 50c; $5.00 per doz.

Sydonia. Large, rich blossoms of purplish violet. Pointed petals. Tall and stately. A mighty good dependable dark colored variety. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Taurus. A Prim hybrid of bright purplish violet. A mighty rare color for this type of Glad. The graceful, slender stems carry 5 to 7 blossoms open at one time. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Theda. Large, shrimp-pink blossoms with soft yellow throats. Tall stems; extra early. Every good quality endears her to us. Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

The Emir. Can you imagine a Glad that is apricot color with a smoky edge and a yellow throat? Well, that is The Emir. It is well named, for the color is surely oriental. Tall, slender spikes with several florets open at one time. A beauty.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

The Flirt. A peculiarly colored one—sort of a red with a purplish undertone, the color reminds one of Purple Glory. A "sassy" Glad and one that is popular with those who like the deeper colors.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

The Orchid. A distinctly new type of Gladiolus. The petals are very long and slender; they are ruffled, frilled and laciniated and the color is in keeping with the form. Pale lavender becoming much deeper in color at the edges and tips of the petals. Certainly a dainty and beautiful Glad.

Each, 40c; 3 for $1.00; $3.75 per doz.

Thistle. Large, rose-red, ruffled blossoms with large, pansy-like throat markings of dark red. A fine and outstanding variety and popular with all who see it.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Titan. Immense, wide open flowers of salmon-pink, flecked with a darker shade, and marked on the lower petal with a large tongue or blotch of purple. Several well-placed blooms open at one time. The Master Artist must have searched his paint box from one end to the other to find just the right shade of pink to harmonize with the proper shade of purple. An exquisitely beautiful Australian. You're bound to love it.

Each, 75c; $7.50 per doz.

Tyrian Beauty. Here is a prince clad in "purple and fine linen." The truly majestic spikes carry their wealth of flowers aloft like a battle flag. Many brilliant American Beauty rose colored blossoms open at one time.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Unusual. A peculiar shade of red with the lower petals somewhat darker. Sometimes shows a veining of white. Rightly named.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Vanity. One of the tallest Glads in existence and as pretty as it is tall. Soft pink flushed over a cream ground. Large, wide open blossoms.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Vernon. Deep salmon-rose with a grayish overlay. Throat white with a red border. Large and very showy.

Each, 25c; $2.25 per doz.

Titanic. Immense wide open blossoms of lilac-purple. An unusual color. Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Tiffany. Pure white slightly ruffled blossoms well placed on gracefully slender spikes. Several open at one time. Early. A good one. Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Tirzah. A beauty of pinkish salmon with a creamy throat. Tall spikes with several rather closely placed florets open at one time. A ruffled beauty. Each, $1.50.

Tobersun. Here is what we believe to be the finest yellow Glad ever introduced. Pure rich, deep yellow, unmarked blossoms perfectly placed on strong, tall, graceful stems and as many as ten of the big blooms open at one time. Surely a beautiful bouquet in itself. It is of the new needle-point type; the petals sort of roll to a point at their tips. You'll never regret having Tobersun as a regular member of the family. Each, $1.50.

Topaz. Unusually colored Primulinus hybrid; salmon-pink tinged with buff. Spikes are tall and willowy and the whole plant is uncommonly graceful.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Tranquil. The unusually colored blossoms are dark red with inconspicuous lines and veining of white and there is a fine hair line of white around each petal. Several well-placed blossoms open at one time on good stems. Fine and unusual. Each, 25c.

Tupelo. Another beautiful Primulinus hybrid. The large flowers are deep yellow with lines of pink in the throat. Fine.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Twin Fires. Good sized blossoms of pure pink; the flowers have a yellow blotch on the lower petals on which are two scarlet spots which look for all the world like two tiny candles aflame. It surely is a pretty Glad and one that should grace every garden. Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Tycko Zang. A masterpiece. Immense blossoms of clear salmon-pink with a contrasting throat of white. Several well-placed blossoms open at one time on the tall, straight spike. Tycko adds distinction to any Gladiolus collection and you'll love her the minute you see her.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Vesta Tilley. An importation from Holland and a beauty. Large blossoms of softest pink with a violet blotch in the throat. The flowers have excellent substance and hold up well either in the garden or when used as cut flowers. Recommended.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Victor. Tall spike with several large flaming blossoms open at one time. The gorgeous blooms are brilliant scarlet, flecked with a deeper shade, and the three lower petals are marked with large creamy white blotches. This is surely the finest white throated red Gladiolus we have ever seen. It is an Australian and should not be confused with another Glad of the same name.

Each, $1.00.

Villa. The blossoms are very dark red, flaked almost black. The lower petals are almost black to the edge. Splendid rich coloring.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Viola Bird. This surely is the daintiest, sweetest little Glad that has been seen in years. The spikes are tall and the dainty little blossoms of violet are placed along the stems like demure little humming birds. It's a perfect darling.

Each, 35c; 3 for $1.00; $3.40 per doz.

Violet Beauty. Large, cerise-violet blossoms with big red throat blotches. Tall spikes and good in every way. The demand frequently exceeds the supply of this stunning variety.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Violet Plume. Clear mauve-violet, deeper in the throat, cream colored lip; grows very tall with good-sized florets well placed on straight, graceful stems. Mighty pretty.

Each, 50c; $4.50 per doz.

Waneta. An extra large, ruffled Primulinus hybrid. Well-opened flowers of beautiful rose-pink with creamy white throats. Exceedingly delicate in shading. Just fine.

Each, 25c; 3 for 65c; $2.25 per doz.

War. Erect, tall, stately spikes of large, blood-red blossoms. One of the late bloomers. He's so well named that you almost expect him to thrust a spear at you as you pass. Very popular.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

White Butterfly. Pure white Primulinus hybrid with a throat of soft cream color. Slender, graceful spikes. Dainty and beautiful.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

White Pearl. Tall, slender spikes with several blossoms open at one time. The color is pure, glistening white with a pleasingly contrasting bright yellow throat. Not a common variety, but chaste and beautiful.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

White Wonder. Mammoth pure white blossoms without markings of any kind. Of robust growth; many blossoms open at one time. Fine.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 80c per doz.

Wilbrinck. A pink sport of Halley, which it resembles in every way except color. One of the "early birds" that is smiling at you at the first of the season.

Each, 10c; 4 for 25c; 60c per doz.

Willy Wigman. Creamy white, flushed soft pink; crimson blotch on the lower petals. Looks as though he had been caught in the pantry with jelly on his chin. Graceful spikes and mighty pretty.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Wine King. Tall spikes of rich, deep, wine-colored flowers. Several flowers open at one time. Out of a job since the Volstead Act, but a real good dark variety just the same.

Each, 5c; 45c per doz.

Yellow Glory. Deep canary yellow, lower petals somewhat deeper in color. Prominent wine-colored blotch. Blossoms beautifully ruffled. Tall, strong stem. Shows its Glory ancestry. A fine one.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Yvonne. Tall, slender spikes carrying many wide open, well-placed blooms of white with a tinge of pink. Small rose blotches add to the attractiveness of this beautiful Glad. It's fine.

Each, 25c; $2.40 per doz.

Zona. Delicate shell pink blooms; not large, but as dainty as can be. The stems are slender but straight, and while it is not one of the "big boys," it is as dainty as a fairy.

Each, 15c; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Tyrian Beauty. (See page 27).

Extra Special Offer No. 3, $1.00

Thirty named varieties of Glads for one dollar. This is not a mixture of discarded seedlings or a "pick-me-up" lot of unknown varieties, but is a guaranteed collection of thirty named standard varieties, all of which are priced in this catalog. While these bulbs will not be placed in separate bags as with other collections, we guarantee each one to be different and to please you. We'll leave it to you. If you are not satisfied with this collection after the bulbs have bloomed—just speak the word and we will refund the purchase price. Fair enough. Isn't it?

Mixed Bulbs, $3.00 per 100

Whenever we are not sure of the identity of any bulb, it finds its way into Bin No. 13. This is our bin of mixed bulbs, consisting of those which are picked up in the fields after plowing, those that find their way out of their proper trays while in storage and in fact all "strays." In this mixture there are always some of the very finest varieties as well as some of the less expensive ones. It is a sort of surprise package. One is just as likely to find a dollar variety as he is to find a Primulinus hybrid worth thirty cents a dozen. In pricing these mixed bulbs at $3.00 per hundred, we feel that our customers will surely get their money's worth many times over. Why not try a hundred?

Wild Gladiolus

Most everyone who is interested enough in flowers to have a garden, is also a lover of wild flowers as well, and it is mighty interesting to trace the origin of our highly bred, pedigreed Glads back to the wild forms from which they originated. There are many, many of the wild forms that have given certain characteristics to our cultivated Gladiolus of today, but many of them are not hardy in our climate. We are able to offer at this time but five species that may be cultivated the same as our ordinary Glads.

Gladiolus Dracocephalus. The Dragon head. The peculiarly shaped and hooded blossoms are striped red on green. You can see that this species is responsible for the fine lines and stripes seen in Rosemary, Old Glory, Freckles, Christy's Prim Beauty, and Beatrice.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

Gladiolus Dracocephalus.

Gladiolus Primulinus. This is the little wild yellow Glad found growing at the base of Victoria Falls in Africa, where it is known as "Maid-of-the-Mist," and is the mother of all the Primulinus hybrids. It has transmitted its widely separated florets, slender graceful stems, hooded blossoms and extreme hardiness to its children.

Each, 10c; 3 for 25c; 90c per doz.

Gladiolus Psittacinus. The Parrot Gladiolus. Another African species with oddly shaped, hooded blossoms of red, green and yellow. It has imparted strength and heat resistance to our garden Glads and is one of the parents of the strain known as the Gandavensis which was introduced in 1842. It is a rare species and not seen in many gardens in America.

Each, $2.50.

Gladiolus Quartianus. This is very tall growing and late flowering but the blossoms are somewhat larger than the foregoing species. The blooms are well placed on good-sized stems and are red and yellow. In northern latitudes, it is well to plant the bulbs in pots in the house in March and transfer the started plants to the garden after danger of frost is past. Many of the late flowering Kunderd varieties trace their ancestry to this one.

Each, 20c; 3 for 50c; $1.90 per doz.

"You can run into debt but you have to crawl out."

Gladiolus Psittacinus.

A Hardy Gladiolus. Now what do you think of that? I know you will say that one year you forgot to dig some of your Glads and they came up next year, but you will remember they did not repeat the performance. But what we are now offering is the wild Glad, Gladiolus Communis, which is absolutely hardy here in Central Ohio and has survived zero temperatures without any protection whatsoever. It's a dainty little Glad, and while it does not reproduce rapidly from bulblets or cormels, it reproduces quickly by bulb division and if not disturbed for several years, forms quite a large clump, which when in bloom is mighty spectacular. The rich mauve or deep lavender blossoms have a cream-colored tongue in each of the three lower petals. Frequently five or more blooms are open at one time. No use talking, it's well worth planting and having for years. As it blooms early in June, delivery is made in the fall so it may be planted at that time. Stock very limited. Speak up soon or you'll likely be disappointed.

Each, 75¢; $7.00 per doz.

Gladiolus Tristis. A mighty interesting as well as beautiful wild Gladiolus from South Africa, where it is known as the Yellow Swamp Gladiolus or Africander. It should be planted in the fall, as it blooms in March and April. Where the winters are not severe, such as the Gulf States and the Pacific States, it may be planted outdoors, but where the winters are severe it may be had in bloom in the window garden or hot house. The foliage is scanty and very slender, reminding one of swamp grass. The stems are slender and tall and should be supported by a stake if grown in the house. It is hard to realize that the blossoms are those of a Gladiolus and not lily blossoms. Usually three or four pale yellowish cream florets are borne on each stem. The fragrance is very similar to that of a hyacinth, though not so overpoweringly sweet and is almost absent until toward evening. Fall delivery only.

Each, 50¢; $4.50 per doz.

	$1.00	WILD GLADIOLUS OFFER	$1.00
1 Gladiolus Draecephalus				$0.20
1 Gladiolus Primulinus				.10
1 Gladiolus Quartiniianus				.20

Gladiolus Communis.
(Hardy).

Lilies

No garden is quite complete without its Lilies. No flower is easier to grow and but few are more satisfactory. When once planted, they may be left undisturbed for years and they will come up year after year to greet you and make the garden sweet with their fragrance and beauty. We offer only the varieties that have bloomed and behaved well for us. We grow our own bulbs of the Regal Lily, but we annually import our Pink and Gold-Banded Lilies from Japan. They are all perfectly hardy. The bulbs should be planted deeply; one foot under the ground is not too much. To get the best results, the bulbs should be planted upon their sides, not upright, and should be surrounded with sand before the hole, in which they are planted, is filled. Never let manure or any kind of fertilizer come in contact with a Lily bulb or (for that matter) any other bulb.

THE REGAL LILY (Lilium regale). A new and glorious Lily from China. It has the trumpet shape of the Easter Lily, but is larger. The flowers are white, sometimes suffused faintly with pink; the center is a beautiful canary color; the reverse of the petals is light bronze or amber. Tall spikes (often over four feet high) proudly carry the jasmine-sweet blossoms. The wonderful substance and glorious beauty combine in making this a perfect cut flower.

35c each; $3.50 per doz.

The Pink Lily.

THE GOLD-BANDED LILY OF JAPAN (Lilium auratum).

Enormous flowers with reflexed petals borne on four-foot stems. The flowers are pearly white, thickly studded with crimson-chocolate spots and each petal is striped through the center with golden yellow. The blooming season is from July to September and each tall, graceful spike, crowned with its wealth of huge blossoms, is a sight that is not easily forgotten.

35c each; $3.50 per doz.

THE PINK LILY (Lilium speciosum rubrum). Probably the most popular Lily in our garden. The large, reflexed petals are deep rose, shading to lighter at the edges and are freely spotted with crimson. Stems often four feet high. One of the very best of cut flowers and absolutely good in every way.

35c each; 3 for $1.00; $3.50 per doz.

The Regal Lily.

THE TIGER LILY (Lilium tigrinum). The old-fashioned Tiger Lily of our grandmothers' gardens. Tall stems crowned with numerous large orange blossoms, thickly speckled and spotted with black.

25c each; $2.40 per doz.

THE DOUBLE TIGER LILY. Did you ever see a double Lily? No? Well, here it is. Identical in coloring with the single Tiger Lily, but double clear to the center. Stays in bloom a long while and is not only an odd flower, but beautiful as well. You will like it.

35c each; $3.50 per doz.

THE HENRY LILY (Lilium Henryi). This is often called the yellow speciosum Lily. It has the same shape and habits as the Pink Lily, but is apricot instead of pink, and is speckled (the marks are too small to be called spots) with black. It stays in bloom a long while and is a very, very satisfactory Lily. It is sure to please you.

75c each; $7.50 per doz.

The Double Tiger Lily.

The Coral Lily.

THE CORAL LILY (Lilium tenuifolium). A perfect little darling from Siberia. You know it's "got" to be hardy when its home is in the land of snows. This is about as dainty a little flower as could be imagined. The color is bright coral-red. The stems seldom grow more than a foot and a half high; often not more than a foot, which makes it a charming addition to the rock garden. It blooms real early in the summer and has up to a dozen nodding little blooms to the stem.

35c each; $3.50 per doz.

See inside back cover for other bargain offers.

Miscellaneous Bulbs

Tuberose

Well known and popular because of its orange blossom fragrance and white, waxy, double flowers, which rise on long spikes from rich green and graceful foliage. To get early blossoms of Tuberoses it is suggested that they be started in pots in the house some time during April and transferred to the garden after all danger of frost is past.

strong bulbs, 10c each; 3 for 25c; $1.00 per doz.

Tuberose.

Summer Hyacinth

(Hyacinthus candidans)

What would you think of a Hyacinth that, instead of growing but a few inches above the ground, would soar upward to a height of from 3 to 5 feet? The Summer Hyacinth does this and more, too, for often after it has "soared," it makes up its mind to "soar" again and sends up another spike and possibly a third before the season is past. The tall spikes hang full of pure white, bell-shaped flowers and are so conspicuous that at a short distance they might be mistaken for a yucca in full bloom.

Summer Hyacinths are charming when planted in groups by themselves and they are especially fine when used in the center of a canna bed, or as a "center-piece" in any formal flower bed. If you have never grown them, you have a delightful experience awaiting you.

15c each; 2 for 25c; $1.40 per doz.

Summer Hyacinth.

Pancratium

(Sea Daffodil or Spider Lily)

This bulbous plant is very similar to the Ismene, but the petals are much narrower, the color is pure white, without a suggestion of any color; the leaves are gray-green and not bright green as in the Ismene. The pleasing fragrance and handsome blossoms will win a hearty welcome.

25c each; $2.25 per doz.

Ismene Calathina

Here is a bulbous flower that is not as well known as it should be. It is sometimes called the Peruvian Daffodil, as the large, creamy white blossoms, to a certain extent, resemble immense daffodil blooms. Several flowers are borne on each stem and the leaves closely resemble those of the amaryllis. If you have never "tried your hand" at growing Ismenes, you're going to have a lot of fun with them.

25c each; $2.25 per doz.

Ismene Calathina.

Hedychium

(Butterfly Lily or Garland Flower)

Imagine a tall, green-leaved canna with a long drooping spike of deliciously fragrant, white, butterfly-shaped blooms growing from its top and you will have a mental picture of this fine flower. It needs plenty of water to behave at its best.

25c each; $2.25 per doz.
